Anÿ Gautier,

Painter a booming artist

Anÿ Gautier feeds her passion since the age of 18, having attended a demonstration of silk painting. Dazzled by the colors which fuse on the fabric, she takes her brushes and invents, very fast, her own technique to approach this requiring, playing in her compositions. She sees then circles trained by the paint by drying and the colors which appear under the eyes. The improvisation is never total when Anÿ Gautier begins to paint. She already has an idea of the colored harmony which she wants to give to her painting. The forms invent as tones meet. She does not begin with a drawing but relies on the silk so that appear the fusion of colors. The surprises, the magic delight her. She likes the colors which we find in the Russian paint as the red, the blue, the purple, the ochre but also the beige and the brown... The colors of the nature, in fact. Anÿ Gautier always uses the same size (116 x 81 cm) for her painting. She explains this big size by her taste of the movement, her necessity of body movements. Her inspiration plunges her into dance themes like party, carnival, Brazil and her cheerfulness, Venice and its masks, always in intense tones. If the painting is realised in one hour, she can have aroused a long preliminary reflection. This artist does not tell any stories and not her history. She prefers to let the spectator interpret these paints as he wants. To each his own emotion. The spectator appropriates her art. She likes seeing the emotion of the other one when she shows her paintings.

«My paint, I want it inspired, intense, undisciplined, unclassifiable, uncontrollable, indefinite, infinite, passionate, improvised. She arises from a body movements, it is the result of a «kinetics», an osmosis, a fusion. It encircles, it escapes, it invents, and all this on the SILK, the material so much sensual and prestigious which fascinates me for a long time. I feed this passion and dressed it in intense and strong colors to bring you to the nival floor in a livened up world which is in fact only the reflection of your soul », confides Anÿ Gautier.
